Dear MR.
PIN:

Last month, we sent you a letter reminding you of your child support obligation. Child support is a legal obligation that does not go away. Failure to make a payment or to respond to the County Department of Child Support Services will result in further enforcement actions. Some of these actions are:

- Filing a negative credit report with Equifax, Experian, and Trans Union.
- Suspending your drivers license, professional license and passport.
- Intercepting any unemployment, state disability insurance or workers compensation benefits.
- Filing a civil contempt action based on the non-payment of court ordered child support.
- Filing criminal actions based on your failure to provide support or contempt of a court order.

Please make a payment immediately. You now have the ability to make credit card payments by Visa, MasterCard or Discover Card on our website at www.sandiegochildsupport.com or by phone at (619) 236-7600.

Otherwise, please visit our office within the next 30 days to develop a plan to meet your child support obligation so that we are not forced to implement these enforcement actions. The Department of Child Support Services is located on the sixth floor of the downtown San Diego Superior Courthouse at 220 W. Broadway. We are open from 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday. Bring proof of your current income (pay stubs, tax returns, unemployment check stubs, etc.) so that we can insure that your current support amount is accurate.

If you have made a support payment to our office within the last 14 days, please disregard this notice.

We urge you to take advantage of the opportunities available to meet your child support obligation. We welcome the opportunity to help you.

Yours truly,

Jeffrey Grissom
Director
